

Supplementary Fig. 1. (A) Flow diagram of the study and (B) surgery case volume with or without preoperative strain analysis

The leading cause of exclusion was the absence of strain analysis, which was primarily due to the low availability of strain during the early study period. The proportion of strain reporting has gradually increased, with 92% of patients in 2018 having strain results

CABG; Coronary Artery Bypass Graft.